LAYLA – ALL AMERICAN NEEDS A HOME!

May 2009: Layla, a 2-year-old, medium-sized female is a true American – a mixed breed.

A smattering of this, a dash of that and a healthy dose of Black Labrador, Layla takes after many Americans who are of mixed ancestry. As Layla says “Since America is the world’s largest melting pot, shouldn’t its favorite dog be a mixed breed?”

Layla hasn’t had the easiest life. Chained to a dog house pretty much around the clock in all kinds of weather, she rarely, if ever, got to spend time in the house. She never knew when she would be fed; and if she accidentally knocked over her water bowl, no one was around to refill it for long stretches at a time. Her natural reflex, a habit that she is trying to break, was to jealously guard her bowls whenever food or water did appear.

Layla is extremely bright, playful, affectionate and anxious to learn. She’s a high-energy dog, and a home with a fenced-in yard where she can run and play and exercise would be perfect for her. Ideally, Layla would do best to be adopted by someone who has the time to work with her and show her what it means to be someone’s cherished pet. Upon introduction, Layla seems to be okay with cats and other dogs. But she doesn’t know what to make of children, so she would do best in an adult-only household.

Layla is spayed and up-to-date on all her vaccinations and is waiting to meet you at Second Chance Animal Center located on Rte 7A in Shaftsbury, VT. The shelter is open Tuesday through Saturday from 11:00-3:30 PM, with extended hours on Wednesday and Friday until 7:00 PM, and most Sundays from 12:00-3:00 PM.
